Description

Today I engaged with the Managing Director of an Information and Communication company based in the South West.

Upon engagement with the client, I was made aware that he is doing some work on behalf of one of his clients, he is looking to engage with a provide that can help his clients develop apps.

The company the client is working on behalf of is a manufacturer of retro arcade machines based in the south west area with around 15 employees, they normally buy the games outright and then build the machine but, a company from Switzerland has approached the client's company and would like the game to be developed and then build the machine.

They would like a provider to come on board and develop some games on a Windows 10 platform, the game can be developed in any kind of code language if it is compatible with Widows 10, the games that they want to be developed are Pac Man, Tetris and Space Invaders.

The client will be taking the information provided by the partner and taking his findings to the board of the company, the client mentioned that they would like the games developed by the end of Q2 2024.

In terms of budget, the client is open to proposals to gather costs and quotes to present to his client.

The client is open to an introductory call from the 8th of January with Teams being the preferred method of contact.
